A transitional course
for Post 19-25yr students

Introduction

The Transition Learning Programme is for students with a range of learning disabilities and complex health needs. The course is suited to learning and helping students to look forward to making choices about adult life.

The Transitional Learning Programme was awarded a grade one from OFSTED for its teaching and learning in 2010 and has maintained that standard since then.

We recognise that everyone is unique and that support should be available to meet individual needs.

People have the right to have control over their lives, contribute to decisions about their future, and integrate into the college and community as they develop new skills.

What do we offer?

- A high level of social care alongside high quality person-centred Learning
- Personalised learning
- Excellent community access
- Well-supported transition in and out, at the start and end of the course
- Person-centred approach to teaching and learning

To enable students to achieve their aims, it is important that parents, carers, tutors and support staff adopt a co-ordinated approach.

General Information

The Transition Learning Programme follows the academic year and runs for 38 weeks. It runs from 9.30am to 3.30pm, Monday to Friday. One of these days will incorporate learning in a social environment.

The programme also offers nine days of respite in addition to the 38 weeks.

The programme is a three-year modular course which is NOCN accredited and made accessible for a wide range of learners.

Modules covered in the current course are person-centred and may include:

- ICT
- Aromatherapy & Sensory
- Music Therapy
- Communication & Life Skills
